GENERAL NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

An Old Offender Arrested

NEW YORK July 18—J. [illegible] Oakley the absconding cashier of the Merchants Exchange National Bank after eluding the vigilance of the authorities for several years was arrested to-day on information given by a stranger who called on the district attorney and went with the officer and pointed out Oakley

Fall of a Railroad Bridge

INDIANAPOLIS July 18—As a freight train was passing over the bridge at M[illegible] yesterday the bridge gave way, precipitating the engine and twenty cars into Tippecanoe river, 85 ft, killing the engineer Louis Beam and the bridge watchman, Jerome Durfee

Various New York Items.

NEW YORK July 18—Henry Phillips Wm Jones and Wm Pearson respectively cashier bookkeeper and superintendent of the cloak department in the establishment of Wilson & Grey, a dry goods firm which lately suspended, have been arrested charged with systematic robbery of their employers When the firm went into bankruptcy it found itself on taking stock, $100 000 behind

A meeting of dramatic writers has been held in this city for the purpose of establishing a protective society for the benefit of the craft and fostering of stage literature on this side of the water

The promised heat wave came down upon New York this morning, and at an early hour humanity was sweltering and the lower order of animals panting People here do not apprehend that the wave will be as fatal here as in St. Louis

The Public says the clearing house returns from 17 leading cities of the United States for the two weeks ending June 13th show a loss of 3.7. The cities that have lost are New York 1.5 Boston 2 1 Philadelphia 10 8 Chicago 11, Baltimore 7 Cincinnati 21 3 St Louis 41, San Francisco 15 3 Louisville 20 5 Pittsburg 30 1, Providence 12 1 Cleveland 15 1 Indianapolis 8, New Haven 25 Syracuse 41 Cities that have gained New Orleans 41 Milwaukee 19 1. Every considerable city in the country, excepting New Orleans and Milwaukee, report smaller exchanges for the first half of July, 1878 than for the first half of July, 1877. The gain in Milwaukee means only that the grain crop of last year was unusually small The insignificant gain at New Orleans is of interest only as it shows that with the crop well cleared out by the jetties midsummer is yet discouraging As separate statements they indicate when analyzed that the condition of business is not wholly unsatisfactory Outside of New York the decrease in exchanges is less than the decline in prices.

Silver War in Omaha,

OMAHA, July 18—There is a silver war in Omaha. Three out of four banks refuse to receive Mexican and trade dollars on deposit and the Union Pacific Co has instructed all its agents and conductors not to receive Mexican or trade dollars except at a discount of [illegible] per cent. This state of affairs was brought about owing to the First National Bank selling trade dollars at 99 cents and subsidiary coin at the same rate, and refusing to receive the same on deposit except at one per cent discount, unless depositors would consent to be paid in the same kind of coin The First National continues to handle this coin as usual, and has received a large shipment of trade dollars from San Francisco.

Army Headquarters at Omaha.

George W. McCrary, secretary of war is in Omaha on business connected with improvements at the Omaha barracks, and selecting a site in the city for the military headquarters building which, is to be erected this year $[illegible],000 having been appropriated by congress for this purpose.

The Fitzjohn Porter Case.

WEST POINT, July 18—After reading the minutes of the last meeting and filing some documents previously overlooked, Capt [illegible], formerly assistant adjutant general to General King, was recalled and testified to that officer's bad state of health during the campaign. Hazard Stevens a lawyer of Boston, major and assistant adjutant general of [illegible] division, ninth corps, in 1862 was called by the judge advocate, and testified as to movements of his division on the 29th and 30th. He described the fighting on the 30th in which his division was engaged On that day, fighting was confined to the front of Groveton, as Porter's witnesses have all sworn, and no large bodies of troops engaged.

[illegible] E Slater, lawyer, of Washington was sworn and testified that in August, 1862, he was private in the 30th New York regiment. His evidence was in regard to the portion of Porter's skirmish line during the 29th which had previously appeared by testimony of two officers of his regiment. He heard no musketry firing that day He described the part of the 30th, which accords with evidence of Porter's witnesses

THE HOT TERM AT THE EAST.

Very Hot in Omaha.

OMAHA, July 18—Intensely hot weather has prevailed here for the last eight days causing four or five fatal sunstrokes, numerous prostrations and a great deal of sickness Mortality has been greatly increased by heat The thermometer has stood at 100° and up from day to day until to day when it went down 2° caused by a refreshing breeze

The Heat at Washington.

WASHINGTON, July 18—To day is the hot of the season Thermometer at 2 this afternoon shows one hundred degrees

Hotter in New York.

NEW YORK, July 18—The heat increases as the day advances, and had the effect of retarding and depressing business in every department. At 3 o'clock thermometer in the shade marked 98°, driving to the cooling seaside everyone whose labors will permit

Still Blazing Hot at St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, July 18—It is still blazing hot this morning, but there is a pretty stiff breeze blowing from the west which tempers the intense rays of the sun and renders them somewhat more bearable than on the previous days.

Cooler in Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 18,—A delightful change in the weather and temperature occurred during the early hours of the morning and the thermometer now registers from 70° to 80° with a strong breeze blowing from the lake and prospects of little further uncomfortable weather. Final reports show that yesterday the cases of sunstroke in Chicago were vastly more numerous than on any preceding day. Thirty-one deaths have been reported and many cases more or less serious

WASHINGTON CITY.

Chinese Grandees and their Magnificence

CHICAGO, July 18—The Journal's Washington special says Fine and imposing quarters will be occupied in Washington by the new Chinese embassy, which it is anticipated will be permanent The personnel of the legation will be much more numerous than that of any of the other foreign legations accredited to Washington and the legation will mix freely in the society of Washington and give elaborate entertainments The embassy will take charge of all Chinese interests in the North American continent Mr D W Bartlett, who has for a number of years been the Washington correspondent of the Springfield, Mass., Republican has consented to act as the American attache of the legation

The Department and the Sioux.

WASHINGTON, July 18—Secretary Schurz to-day being asked his opinion as to the result of the consultation between the commissioners recently sent out to Dakota accompanied by Commissioner Hayt and the Sioux said: Hayt's mission has not failed and a the [illegible] mentioned in the letter of instructions have been complied with The removal of the Sioux Indians would have taken place long ago had not congress so long have had appropriation at the [illegible] and [illegible] the [illegible] Letters all [illegible] the [illegible] maker of the [illegible] that we [illegible] All promises made to them [illegible] have been [illegible] and are being [illegible] The Sioux chiefs have repeatedly expressed satisfaction with the manner in which supplies [illegible] the [illegible] and [illegible] the quality of the supplies

Questioned as to the discovery of the swindling operations carried on at Crow Creek agency by Dr Livingston [illegible]

Answer: Not at all I knew the details of it several weeks ago The fact is that I had [illegible] sent from this department of justice some weeks ago for the prosecution of the offenders and it is now in the hands of the district attorney of Dakota

The secretary says this campaign against Indian agents was planned in his office and reflects not discredit but honor on the Indian bureau He declares that the charges [illegible] vindicate the Indian service which is trying to break up the abuses of years He promises further developments in the future as the result of pending investigation The present policy of getting Indians on reservations and putting them to farming and stock raising is easily framed but difficult to carry out It needs the co operation of whites and patience to accomplish it He is confident the Indian service can be made honest

More Cheers for Beaconsfield

LONDON July 18—Lord Beaconsfield on entering the old palace on his way to the house of lords about 5 o'clock this evening was heartily cheered by a great crowd assembled to greet him He experienced much difficulty in passing through the throng though accompanied by a squad of police

The announcement of the promised statement by the Earl of Beaconsfield attracted a large and distinguished assembly in the house of lords including the Prince of Wales and other members of the royal family Lord Beaconsfield rose amid loud cheering He said that in laying upon the table the protocols of the treaty of Berlin he should be only doing his duty to the house to parliament and the country by making some remarks

English Politics

LONDON July 18—Many members of the cabinet are opposed to a general election but the premier strongly favors it

At a meeting of members of the common council held to day it was resolved to bring forward a motion at a general meeting of the council that Lords Beaconsfield and Salisbury be invited to a banquet and be presented with the freedom of the city

Beaconsfield will Appeal to the Country

LONDON July 18—A correspondent of the Manchester Guardian says the government has decided upon final action on principle and it will depend upon circumstances when an election takes place If explanations of Beaconsfield are well received and the opposition or a section thereof challenge his policy that will be made a justification for going to the country and renewing conservative lease of office

The Colliers' Strike in France

PARIS July 18—The strike at Anzin is one of the most extensive ever known in France Five thousand colliers left the pits demanding higher wages and eight hours for a day's work There are usual evidences of foreign instigators and Bonapartist intriguers Gen D'Armerie has to protect the pits to prevent the agitators from seizing them and stopping work A number of arrests have been made Troops have been brought up and public houses closed

The Prince Imperial Wins a Suit

PARIS July 18—La Siecle will be fined $400 at the suit of the prince imperial for the publication of a statement respecting Napoleon the Third's civil lists charging appropriation of crown property An objection was taken by the defendant to the prince being so styled in the summons and to the omission of the family name of Bonaparte which was overruled by the court

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

The Minor Matters of the Treaty.

LONDON July 18—A Vienna dispatch says Caratheodri Pasha Turkish plenipotentiary and staff have arrived here from Berlin and negotiations about Austrian occupation of Bosnia and Herzegovina are to be resumed Risties the Servian premier is here on his way to Belgrade and has had a conference with Count Andrassy who likewise received the Roumanian agent and two Montenegrin envoys, who have returned from Berlin Besides the negotiations with Turkey others with the smaller states seem to have been taken in hand Matters to be treated of are numerous political as well as commercial, and relate to reopening of communications By the independence which these small border states have acquired through the decision of the congress all their international relations are changed and must be regulated afresh Reciprocity extradition, commercial and other treaties must be concluded with them An agreement signed at Berlin by Austrian and Servian delegates to the congress stipulated for the completion within three years of the Belgrade & Nish Sofia & Nisch and Nisch & Mitrovitz Railroads The conclusion of a commercial convention between the two countries is also contemplated

Indignity to the British Flag

LONDON July 18—The Times Constantinople dispatch gives the following account of the firing upon an unarmed boat of a British man of war by Russians near the Gulf of Saros The captain of the English steamer reports that he was stopped off Gallipoli by a signal from the English fleet, directing him to take on board Lieutenant Hughes sent by Admiral Carmoret to report the following incident Two days ago a man of war boat was cruising off the Russian lines and coming on the landing the men were immediately made prisoners A lieutenant midshipman and 10 men were in the boat Not returning to the English fleet another boat was sent to look for them but on approaching the place this boat was fired upon two bullets passing through the sides of the boat fortunately without injuring any one

The More Murder Trial

SAN BUENAVENTURA July 18—To day in the Sprague case the defense turned testimony upon the reputation of Jess Jones, states evidence and by noon there was certainly not enough of it left to qualify him for admission into select religious circles To telegraph the evidence would only involve endless repetition but it may be said that hundreds of good citizens including Jones uncles and grandfather testified that his reputation had been very bad for the past few years that he associated with thieves and that he lied, and that wherever he happened to stop there was confusion about missing horses blankets cows, spurs, etc There was also some evidence that the horse which he claimed to have ridden on the night of the murder was an untameable brute which few would dare to ride while carrying a gun and also that the slough was dry where he professed to have crossed water on that night It was also testified that the place for which Austin Brown another witness for the prosecution was paid $2 000 was only worth $500 Still, while generally discrediting these witnesses, the defense have not yet invalidated their direct statement as to the murder but they have forty witnesses more yet to come

SAN BUENAVENTURA July 18—In the trial this afternoon a good deal of testimony was introduced to show the swift and apparently mysterious passage of a wagon containing five men clothed in long linen dusters toward the scene of the tragedy in the evening and away from it towards morning Several witnesses saw or heard it but did not know the parties To morrow will tell whether it cuts any figure in the case

Defendant's daughter testified that her father went to bed at home at 10 o'clock on the fatal night She could have seen the light of the burning barn if awake from the house Several additional parties swore that James' reputation was very bad

Churchill one of the county defendants testified that he was at home the night of the murder and did not see Sprague that night Also that Austin Brown never brought him a message from Tompkins as he stated nor even spoke to him until months after the murder He had not killed More did not know who did and never said he knew anything about the matter

Cartee McCart and Ford severally denied any knowledge of the murder or that either of them had seen Sprague on the fatal night

John G Tompkins an unimpeachable witness flatly contradicted Brown's story that he sent a message by Brown to Churchill at any time Brown had said that when he delivered the message Churchill broached the matter of the murder and asked him to assist

There is a chance that the defense will be through early to morrow and that testimony in rebuttal on both sides may be closed by Saturday night If so the case will reach the jury by Monday afternoon As the case draws to a close the interest increases and the doorways and passages of the court house are filled with those seeking to hear evidence

ARIZONA.

Rich Gold Placers Discovered

SAN FRANCISCO July 18—The following dispatch was received here this morning from Yuma concerning new mining discoveries on the Colorado Placers lie from six to ten miles back from the Colorado river on the Arizona side and are found at the base of a high mountain and run back into gulches and ravines They are worked by dry washing J A I West who has a ranch in Chimbuoes valley opposite the landing for the miners writes to Captain [illegible] an intimate friend, this morning [illegible] and says his hands have deserted him for the diggings An intelligent Mexican formerly mate on the river boats came to Yuma from the scene of discoveries to buy provisions, etc He gives a good account of them, and returns accompanied by others An American left here a short time ago with a dry washing machine saying he had something good in prospect His destination proves to be these placers Gold has been discovered before in the vicinity but this American and his partner have proved the extent of deposits to be greater than was thought The new diggings are about twenty miles above Aubry to which point steamers run regularly leaving Yuma every Saturday morning after the arrival of the train from San Francisco If travel would warrant it these steamers could easily run to the diggings The nature of the country will admit of water being taken from the river above and brought by ditch direct to the mines giving abundant supply at little cost

It is quite safe to say that a large, zealous and powerful minority of the Republican party are in favor of Gen Butler for the next president of the United States They may force his nomination There may be other men in the Republican party who have less positive enemies we doubt whether there is any one man who has more positive friends Indeed that is the characteristic of Mr Butler's friends they are positive They are active energetic and enthusiastic What man there in the country who can draw together a larger audience to day to listen to a political speech than Ben Butler? Some persons have a personal dislike of Mr Butler—it may be a mere prejudice against him We should like to hear what there is substantial to be said in derogation of his fitness and the sooner the better For it begins to look as though if Butler is not the Republican candidate Grant will be

GEN SHERMAN AND THE ARMY BILL

[illegible]

Washington dispatch: The Chicago Times [illegible] Sherman [illegible] the hottest day of the season in his office in the northwest corner of the old war department He was busy at work with a pen in one hand and a pipe in the other Dressed in linen with no marks [illegible] excepting his military buttons on his [illegible] coat he appeared to be cooler than any of the many officials I have seen to day in a somewhat protracted search for news [illegible] sat his personal aid Col Audenried also at work at his desk dressed with his usual elegant taste

General [illegible] gave me something about the inconsistencies of the army bill [illegible] before the close of congress

"Yes" he answered turning his chair around "but you can make a much smaller paragraph on its consistencies What is it you want to know?"

"I want to know how it will affect the army"

"Oh it raises h—ll In the first place it prevents the use of the army to protect emigrants That posse comitatus part of the bill is the merest piece of foolishness I know of The army has always been subordinate to the civil authorities, but I don't see under the provisions of this act how the army can be used to suppress riots or protect the emigrants unless the president declares martial law in the excited district or declares war against the particular tribe of Indians It is getting so that we shall have to apologize to the people we whipped They come here and get everything they want for it is easy to get such fellows as Banning who hasn't got brains enough to be a dry goods clerk

"Will the bill save any money?"

"No I believe the army will cost more this present year than it did last"

"What about the anomaly of mounted officers going afoot"

"Oh! there's another d—d piece of foolishness Just look at it Think of battery commanders going afoot while their men are mounted All general officers by this act are dismounted For instance I am not allowed a single horse nor Gen Sheridan This law provides that no officer east of the Mississippi river shall be allowed forage, and of course I can't keep horses without forage The spectacle is presented of officers of a light battery at East St Louis drilling, their men, who are mounted while the officers themselves are afoot Was there ever such absurdity and inconsistency Across the river within a mile, a battery may be stationed whose officers may be mounted How can the efficiency of an army be maintained without the drill and how can army officers on foot drill a company of cavalry or artillery mounted?

I remarked that it would seem rather funny to see an officer on such a hot day as this, running after a charging squadron of cavalry yelling at the top of his voice and commanding the men not to go so fast and to keep within hearing

"Well general, how does the law affect general officers

It affects them greatly For instance Gen Sheridan at Chicago is not allowed a horse, while a colonel or a major on the west bank of the Mississippi river is allowed two horses The law even starves the old black horse that Sheridan rode at Winchester, which was alive at last accounts The old fellow will have to be shot for the government will not feed him

"What have you done with your horses, general?"

"Well I've given the whole d—d thing away horses harness and carriage You can't sell a horse in Washington you know One horse which was old and lame I ordered to be shot, because I couldn't give him away

"Have you any of your war horses left

"No thank God they are all dead, and I shall not have to apologize to them for the meanness of congress I should hate to be obliged to tell them that the government wouldn't feed them"

The general then took up the army bill and ran a pencil along the margin to call attention to that portion of the bill relating to quarters "I was formerly allowed $250 a month for quarters. It was the same in 1865 to the general commanding the army This law cuts me down to $125 a month Sheridan is only allowed $70 a month which everybody knows will not hire two rooms of suitable character in Chicago The theory is that while officers are in barracks a certain number of rooms are provided for officers according to rank When serving in a city where quarters are not owned by the government officers are allowed a money valuation They are supposed to have a furnished house so they can pull up stakes and leave at a moment's notice on being ordered to other fields Why Gen Hancock has had to leave New York on account of this law He has gone to Governor's Island into the government barracks He could not afford to live in New York"

"How about fuel general?

Well, the law is very inconsistent in regard to that Formerly wood was issued to officers Now the government sells to them In Fort Buford, for instance, it will take nearly all an officer's pay for the purchase of fuel while officers in Southern California would not have to buy any fuel, except a little for cooking purposes At very cold posts the purchase of fuel will be a very severe tax on officers The law discriminates against such officers and in favor of those in hot climates

In the matter of quarters it was subsequently explained that no army in the world is regulated by law in such matters It is always a matter of regulation not law In New York and Washington rents are very high in Philadelphia they are much cheaper while in Detroit they are very low In San Francisco the rents are enormous The question is asked why the same rates are allowed in Detroit as in San Francisco "The law" said Gen Sherman speaking generally, "is full of absurdities and inconsistencies The posse comitatus part was dictated by the people whom we have whipped and who don't want to see union soldiers The fact is they don't like to see the American flag among them

PAYMENT OF PENSIONS.

NEW REGULATIONS FOR SALARIES AND FEES OF AGENTS

[Washington Special to the New York Times]

The pension appropriation act passed at the last session of congress makes some changes in existing laws which will be profitable to pensioners and interesting to pension agents The act provides that from and after July 1 1878, agents for the payment of pensions shall in lieu of the percentage fees pay and allowances now provided by law be allowed and paid the following compensation for their services postage upon vouchers and checks sent to pensioners, and all the expenses of their offices

First A salary at the rate of $4 0 0 per annum

Second Fifteen dollars for each 100 vouchers or at that rate for a fraction of 100 prepared and paid by any agent in excess of 1000 vouchers per annum

Third Actual and necessary expenses for rent fuel and lights and for postage on official matters directed to the departments and bureaus at Washington to be approved by the secretary of the interior

The act also provides that a fee of $1 and no more shall be paid to examining surgeons for each examination of pensioner as provided by law except when the examination is made by a board of surgeons in which case the fees now allowed by law shall be paid

THE INDIAN WAR!

Hostiles Returning by their Old Route

LA GRANDE July 18—The hostiles turned yesterday and are now returning back on the trail by which they came Cavalry under Col Forsythe are close on their trail

Punished Severely—An Outrage by a Volunteer Captain

BAKER CITY July 18—Umatilla Indians and cavalry under Forsythe struck the hostile camp last night about 25 miles from Stark's ranch on the Daly road killing 15 warriors and capturing 25 women and children and over 100 head of horses The hostiles are much demoralized and captive squaws report that they are breaking into small bands with the evident intention of fleeing to the Weiser and making their way to the Bannack or buffalo country

Last evening the Nez Perce scouts under Lieut Williams accompanied by white scouts belonging to Col Sanford's command went into camp on North Powder While sitting around the camp fire all dressed in citizens clothes a man named Haines captain of a volunteer company who had seen the party enter the timber fired two shots into the scouts from a tree about sixty yards distant killing one of the Nez Perce scouts and mortally wounding another The Nez Perces are much incensed at Haines and it was with much difficulty that the white scouts and Lieut Williams could restrain them from killing him at once Indians were rendering very efficient service and now they will scarcely continue longer in service It is feared this will also drive the Umatillas from the field At last accounts Haines was under guard and probably will be brought to Col Sanford's camp

Gen Wheaton telegraphed Col Sanford from La Grande that a few hostiles have made their appearance in Grand Ronde valley He hopes with Sanford's help and the command under him to capture or make speedy work of them

Howard at Grand Ronde.

NORTH GRAND RONDE VIA WALLA WALLA July 18 [illegible]—Gen Howard having received official report of the battle at Cayuse station, will move his force speedily as possible toward Grand Ronde valley and endeavor to cut off the enemy's retreat through Wallowa A few hostiles probably scouts, have appeared in this valley

Movements of Indians and Troops

CELILO July 18

Steamer Northwest left Grand Ronde river yesterday at 3:30 P M and arrived here at 10 o'clock P M No signs of Indians were seen near the mouth of Grand Ronde Rumors are rife in Lewiston that Moses has notified settlers on the Spokane to look out for themselves as he is unable to control his people who threaten to go on the warpath

Gen Howard moved camp from the mouth of Joseph's creek 50 miles above Lewiston Tuesday with 120 men for Summerville Nothing has been heard here from the hostiles since the fight with Miles

Much fear is felt in the Spokane country that Moses' warriors in large numbers will join the hostiles

PENDLETON July 16 1878

Gov Chadwick Troops under Col Bernard moved into the mountains yesterday The command under Capt Miles moved this morning at 2 o'clock Indians are supposed to be forted up about 12 miles from the agency, on the head of McKay creek. Cayuse Indians claim to have had a fight yesterday with the Snakes and that they killed Egan and brought in his scalp They brought in four scalps and other trophies of war, and have a head dress that they claim is Egan's Should the troops find them as the Indians represent, they will undoubtedly get the best of them One company of volunteers arrived at the agency from Walla Walla for the front Olney McCoy's body is in Three others were found but not yet brought in Will try and get all the facts and let you know promptly Yours &c

Report from Pendleton—The Umatillas Doing Good Service—Miscellaneous Matters and Reports.

UMATILLA July 18 1878—10 P M

The following is a letter from Pendleton dated July 17th 12 o'clock M

To Gov Chadwick The latest is that Bernard's command were yesterday at noon near Meacham's station, Sanford's command was at Meacham's Miles command was en route for the front The Indians from reports of scouts, have divided into two or three bands, some headed towards Umatilla river and some towards the head of McKay creek

The Umatilla Indians have at last gone to the assistance of our troops They agreed to get Egan alive, if possible but to get his scalp in any event if Umapine and his friends would be allowed to return and with that understanding sent out 45 of their braves and on the morning of the 15th had a fight with the Snakes and came into the agency with four scalps and five prisoners Yesterday they took the scouts with an army surgeon to the place of the battle and produced the body of Egan which they had cached, to the scouts The captain of the scouts and others recognize him They cut off his head and broken arm and brought it into camp The party who was with them says that he counted eleven dead Indians on the battle field killed by Cayuse Indians and that the Snakes left in such haste that many of their camp fixtures were still on the field The fight was about five miles west of Meacham's station

The Snakes burned a house on the reservation near Cayuse station night before last and drove off some Cayuse horses By parties out yesterday evening Snake Indians were seen on the reservation in small bands Nothing definitely from the front since yesterday noon

Budd Beagle, a scout, left here night before last by way of the Daly road for Sanford's command with dispatches and on yesterday his horse came in with his rigging There were no signs of any injury but great fears are entertained for the safety of Beagle Parties are now gone to learn something of him if possible We trust that he is all O K yet and that his horse may have got away from him and only left him afoot

The committee for the destitute will attend to all needs as soon as supplies arrive We cannot tell just what is needed will if possible, to-day find out

Olney McCoy will be buried this morning at this place The other parties killed at the same time with him are buried on the ground where killed Bunker is not feeling so well this morning, and his wife should come to see him at once It is reported that all wounded Indians with a number of bucks to guard them are camped upon the head of Birch creek above the place of battle with Howard's command Volunteers are talking of going out to give them a fight, Capt Sperry will try and get his company fully organized to day No troops have arrived yet from Umatilla

We are building a fort to day Many families left us yesterday some for Umatilla and many Walla Walla We have at least 100 men here who have no arms at all In long guard duty we have to change our guns one to the other I forwarded guns to Union county yesterday They should be there by noon to day if not taken in They went by the Pinkton route Col Mizner's command has just arrived J B KEENEY

The stage to day brought news of Beagle says he was hard pressed by the Indians and jumped off his horse and took to the brush the Indians losing him and the horse Both got to Pendleton yesterday all right

Gen Gates Relieves Gov Chadwick, who Returns to Salem

UMATILLA July 18

Gen N H Gates arrived at Umatilla Tuesday evening and after receiving full information as to the situation assumed entire control and proceeded to Pendleton This will relieve Gov Chadwick who is pretty well worked down and who will return to Salem this week

Indian Murderers to be Arrested

Instructions have been issued to Sheriff Sperry of Umatilla county by the governor to arrest as speedily as possible all Indians whether on or off the reservation who have been concerned in murders and other depredations in this county in order that they may be proceeded against under the criminal law of the state

Condition of Al Bunker.

News reached here last night that Al Bunker was getting worse and was anxious to see his wife and mother who arrived here from Iowa Tuesday evening and only heard of his being wounded when they got to Celilo Gov Chadwick sent them and five children to Pendleton last night by private conveyance with an armed escort They reached there in safety this morning at daylight Bunker is reported to-day to be considerably better

Appeal for a Military Post Near Pendleton

Gov Chadwick has sent a strong appeal on behalf of the state to the secretary of war to establish a military post at the agency near Pendleton and to continue it so long as there are Indians on the reservation

Status of the Umatilla Indians—Doubts Expressed of their Loyalty

UMATILLA July 17 1878

John R. Foster Portland From dispatches I learn that Indians are fortified 12 miles from the agency between McKay and Cottonwood creeks Col Sanford's column is approaching them from the south Capt Miles from the east Col Bernard's from the west and the infantry from the agency These forces are expected to give them battle to day

From S M Pennington our senator I ascertain that there is no doubt among the citizens of Pendleton that the Umatilla reserve Indians are the ones who have done the most murders and fighting, as Mr Jewell before his death said the Indian who shot him was one he knew and who had been in Pendleton a number of times These Umatilla Indians pretend to be friendly and to fight the Snakes but only to deceive the whites and decoy our volunteers into ambuscades by false reports Hence they are the most dangerous of all foes One Indian named Umapine is claiming to have fought the Snakes yet by the volunteers who went out to recover Mr Coggan's body it is said his Indians fired on them and drove them back and at the time our soldiers were fighting at the agency he was within sound of the firearms yet he did not assist against the Snakes

From all the opinion is expressed and except the Indian agent say that the so called friendly Indians are spys scouts and decoys for those who are in arms in the mountains as hostiles No peace no hopes of safety can ever be for the people of this county until all Indians are removed from our midst and forced to remain on a far away reserve The deplorable murder of some of our best citizens the loss of immense numbers of stock, the total loss of grain for want of harvesting call for unanimous action on the part of all Oregon that those so called friendly Umatilla Cayuse and Columbia river Indians must and shall be removed from our midst We trust that the generous and energetic citizens of Portland will set the ball a rolling

FROM SOUTHERN OREGON

EXTRACT FROM REPORT OF CAPT JOHN Q ADAMS 1ST CAVALRY OF A SCOUT MADE FROM FORT KLAMATH FROM JUNE 28 TO JULY 8 1878

I left this post in charge of 25 men of B company 1st Cavalry, on Friday the 28th ult for the purpose of making a scout as required by the order, taking with me 15 days supplies

I was accompanied the first three days of my march by Mr J A Roork, U S Indian agent in charge of the Klamath reservation, and three of the principal chiefs The settlers on the upper Sprague river I found very much alarmed, having previously sent their families away from their homes for safety They were assured by Mr Roork and the chiefs that no danger whatever existed from any Indians on this reservation, which quieted their fears somewhat and their families returned Still further on, some 25 miles to the eastward, in Drew's valley, the same alarm existed, though not to so great an extent, the families of the settlers not having been removed I quieted their fears as well as I could telling them that in my judgment they had nothing to fear from any Indians from the Klamath reservation None of these people knew of any Bannacks or other hostile Indians having been in their vicinity their fears being entirely from the reservation Indians

I proceeded on eastward to Lake view the county seat of Lake county situated in the upper end of Goose Lake valley a distance of about 1[illegible]0 miles east of this post At Lake view the settlers were very much alarmed, caused by some depredations committed over in Warner valley about 40 miles east of them It seems that about a week or ten days previous to my arrival there some Indians had entered Warner valley and burned three houses on the eastern side and run off about 20 head of horses At that time and previous the settlers had become frightened at the various rumors that had reached them and had fled mostly to Lake view, leaving their homes entirely unprotected. A party of 12 or 13 citizens had already gone from Goose Lake when I arrived there, to ascertain the amount of damage done in Warner valley and this party returned the day after my arrival at Lake view From them I learned that no other depredations than these mentioned has been committed They saw no Indians and the stock were grazing throughout the valley as usual

I concluded that the depredations were committed by a small band of hostile Bannacks or Piutes and that they had fled with their captured horses long since and considered judging from reports in the newspapers regarding the movements of the hostiles that Warner valley was a long way from their operations and that it was perfectly safe for settlers to return to their homes in that valley They felt considerable apprehension from Ochoco's band of Snake Indians His whereabouts could not be ascertained and as plenty of opportunity had been given him to raid Warner valley if he intended to I concluded that he was either hid away in the mountains to avoid both white and the Indians or that he had gone out of that section of the country

I saw a number of people from Chewaucan Summer and Silver Lake valleys and learned that no hostiles or other Indians had been seen in those valleys that the settlers were not free from the general alarm that spread all through the country and some of the families were leaving their homes travel however, was uninterrupted and their principal fear I learned was from Indians belonging on the Klamath reservation and from the wild and false rumors that I learned had been put in circulation it was but natural that settlers should be terribly frightened I contradicted these false stories concerning the Klamath Indians I was not able to learn of any hostiles being or having been in or near any of the country on my route excepting the few who had committed the depredations in Warner valley and who undoubtedly had long since rejoined the hostiles

Considering it unnecessary to continue my march through Summer and Silver Lake valleys and having fulfilled the instructions under which I was operating I returned to this post with my detachment arriving about 9 o'clock of this date I am sir very respectfully your obedient servant

THE ANGLO RUSSIAN AGREEMENT,

HOW ENGLAND MADE TERMS WITH RUSSIA FOR SPOLIATION OF TURKEY WITHOUT KNOWLEDGE OF THE OTHER POWERS—THE GREAT GAME OF BOTH POWERS

London Correspondence of the N Y Tribune,

The main accusation against England may be summed up in a sentence During all her negotiations with Russia she has taken her stand on what she called the treaty law of Europe she maintained that the treaty of Paris could not be essentially modified without the formal assent of the signatory powers she insisted that the new treaty of San Stefano to which only Russia and Turkey were parties had and could have no binding force until, whether by a congress or by negotiations between the cabinets of Europe discussing the treaty in common a European agreement had been arrived at That attitude it was which earned her so much of the applause of Europe as was not the applause of a Turcophil claque But while still maintaining it to all appearance she secretly and suddenly abandoned it and entered into a private arrangement with Russia of a nature to protect British interests and save British susceptibilities Having secured those, she calmly throws over the rest and leaves other powers to shift for themselves each to make such bargain as it can with Russia, and treaty law and public faith and international law are forgotten altogether. All this she did not only in violation of repeated declarations by cabinet ministers, but in the dark The Schouvaloff-Salisbury memorandums were private They were communicated to no other power England entered the congress her ministers refusing to answer questions in parliament, and leaving all Europe to understand that she entered it for the purposes and on the terms laid down in the Salisbury circular and elsewhere when in fact she was entering it as the other party to a bargain with Russia which the two powers were to do their best to get accepted and enforced by the congress

What is dreaded in England is any solution partial or complete at the expense of the Turk, and to the advantage of Russia. But the thing which at the moment concerns England and the friends of England far more nearly, is the disclosure of the new spirit in which her government is conducted. Not even yet is parliament roused to anything like indignation against the ministers who treat both lords and commons with contempt. But I suppose there must come a day when Englishmen will be tired of submitting to the personal rule of a prime minister, and when they will demand that the country shall once more be governed in accordance with its best traditions, among which are candor, openness, frank dealing, and a preference for telling the truth

A petition which addressed the queen of Great Britain as "empress of India" has been returned for correction by the home department

AGRICULTURAL EXPERIMENTS

Prof Silliman of Yale in an elaborate and very interesting letter to the New York World, gives an account of valuable experiments in scientific agriculture made in England by John Bennet Lawes who is said to have devoted his life and fortune to inquiries in this behalf His experiments in regard to treatment of lands and use of fertilizers are said to have been especially extensive and valuable They began as long ago as 1844 and have been kept up ever since with most important and satisfactory results Possession of fortune has enabled him to prosecute inquiries and experiments whose results can be made available by farmers of all classes Under his methods the most important crops which are usually grown in rotation have been grown separately year after year in succession on the same land This has been done (1) without manure, (2) with farm yard manure, and (3) with a variety of chemical manures, the same manure being as a rule applied year after year on the same plot of ground and for the same crop These experiments have been varied by an actual course of rotation with different manures It will be understood, as Prof Silliman observes, that to follow out such a system thoroughly and obtain from it the utmost information and best results which it is capable of affording, no small labor and many details must be involved reaching over long periods of time and demanding a perfect system of account and record to prevent loss and error from failure of memory or confusion of data In the details themselves practical farmers can have little interest. They want to be made acquainted with the results of experiments Few have time to study a mass of data compiled from experiments pursued during a period of forty years They want careful generalizations and perspicuous statements of results. It is well to observe, however, that the system is founded on a knowledge of the chemistry of agriculture, and requires constant attention to its ascertained principles The constituent elements of various crops are studied and ascertained, and upon these materials are founded conclusions from which there is no escape. The analyses have been conducted with such method and precision as to illustrate very fully the influence of season, meteorology, manures, exhaustion and other conditions, upon crops As a result it is found that the old notion that a certain amount of decomposing organic matter is essential to enable plants to assimilate carbon is an error, since the highest results attained have been reached and continually reproduced without a particle of carbonaceous substance added to the soil Nitrogen the most essential element of fertility, perhaps, for both cereals and grasses, is supplied most rapidly by the use of ammoniacal salts, but its highest effects are not obtained by the use of such salts alone. The effect of such nitrogenous fertilizers is much enhanced by the use of silicate of soda, and ammoniacal salts alone do not effect the same results which are attained when they are used in connection with alkaline salts. Hence the full advantages that should be derived from the liquid manures of the barnyard, which are charged with ammonia, are rarely obtained

Early in June, Prof Silliman, visiting this veteran experimenter's grounds, saw a wheat field of thirteen acres which had been divided into plots for purposes of experiment It needed, he says, no skill to see the immense disparity between the several plots of grain growing side by side and under treatment for over a quarter of a century by different fertilizers Without manure this land yields continuously an average of fourteen bushels of wheat to the acre, which is about the yield of unmanured wheat lands in the United States, except upon the Pacific coast, where there is a better result. Each plot of Mr Lawes' land has its own underdrain, and has been subject all these years to different methods of treatment. The results are most instructive and described as worthy of special study. Fourteen tons per acre of farm yard manure have raised the yield of this land from fourteen to thirty-five bushels to the acre. The addition of 200 pounds of sulphate of potassa, 100 pounds each of sulphate of soda and magnesia, and 350 pounds of superphosphate of lime has raised its yield to only sixteen bushels, a result it would seem quite discouraging to agricultural chemistry But the one element of success was wanting namely, ammonia, and in consequence we find that when this was added to the mixture just enumerated, in quantity of 200, 400 and 600 pounds respectively of ammoniacal salts, there was an increased yield which ran up to 25, 34 and 37 bushels of wheat to the acre, in proportion as this last element was supplied. That it was the nitrogen of ammonia that did the work was most evident from the fact that when an equivalent quantity of nitrogen was supplied in other forms the yield of wheat showed no such improvement. Nor was it sufficient to use only the salts of ammonia Under this treatment the best result attained was less than twenty-two bushels to the acre. It is clear from these experiments, as Prof Silliman concludes that a combination of mineral salts with superphosphate of lime and the salts of ammonia is essential to the highest condition of fertility.

There will be a time when facts like these will not appear to be so obscure and remote from use as they seem at present Ours is distinctively a wheat country This cereal will always be its leading agricultural product We gather crops now without much use of fertilizing material, and there is still much virgin soil. But our lands will wear out eventually, as lands in the older states have done, unless such consequence be prevented by skillful management Bounteous harvests cannot always be gathered unless the constituent elements of the crops removed year by year are restored to the land It is demonstrated that the manure of the farm can be made worth vastly more by the addition of mineral substances which experiment has proved are effectual aids in proper combination, to vegetable growth We still have so much new land that it will not yet be considered necessary to go into these methods to any considerable extent and yet it must be remembered that every cargo of wheat we ship away reduces by so much the life and productive power of the soil It is easier and far less costly to keep our lands from running down than to restore them after exhaustion

A SUGGESTION OR TWO

Let a case be stated this way If the people of Oregon wear out 300 000 pounds of wool a year in clothing blankets, etc—which is a small allowance,—it costs them every cent of the proceeds of 3 000 000 pounds of wool produced in the state—which may be a large allowance,—to pay for the manufacturing of the 300 000 pounds into clothing If any one doubts that let him make the calculation for himself Let him take from the cost of his coat and other garments the market value of the amount of wool in them and see what proportion of the cost goes to the manufacturer The result may astonish him but he cannot get away from it A similar comparison would be equally [illegible] in relation to our boots and shoes and the materials of which they are made

Suppose the circumstances were reversed Suppose that instead of shipping [illegible]000 000 pounds of wool to pay for 300 000 pounds of goods we manufactured the entire [illegible]000 000 pounds into goods and sent abroad for [illegible] all above the 300 000 pounds needed for home use what a change that would make in our industries And how much greater would it be if the same rule were applied to our boots and shoes, agricultural implements and the long line of manufactured goods of all descriptions which we import but which could be produced among us But the saving is not all taken into consideration till we add the per cent which would arise from the addition to our population of those who would be engaged in the manufacture of these goods and the advance in the value of property consequent upon the increase of business and prosperity among us

In Colorado a human skull has been dug up which experts say antedates the glacial age The proof is that it was found firmly imbedded in the undisturbed and unmistakable boulder clay of that period This is paraded as the first discovery of the kind in America It would be more satisfactory if we had a full and well attested account of the situation in which it was discovered Colorado, unfortunately, has been a fruitful field of frauds and impositions of this character Hence some natural unbelief when a new discovery is announced especially if it be one of a very unusual and important character However it seems to well established that human remains discovered in several places in Europe belong to the ante glacial period and it is possible that Colorado may also have a genuine specimen to present

Congressman Rainey (colored) of South Carolina, who was the only member of the committee on enrolled bills not drunk on the last night of the session and incapable of work, will be a candidate for re-election but though his district contains 6 000 majority in his favor preparations are making to bulldoze it which doubtless will succeed as in every other case where it has been attempted and then the next committee on enrolled bills needn t be troubled with any man sober enough to bother the house about business

STEPHENS' PERORATION

CLOSING WORDS OF HIS GREAT SPEECH AT ATLANTA

This may be the last time I shall ever address the people of Atlanta Life with me is flickering in the socket The year 1839 was the first time I ever spoke at this hall I speak the same language and principle to-day I did then

It is said by some that I am old and becoming a fossil Excuse me for alluding to these things They do not pain me but I remember very well when, on that portico, about the middle of September 1860, upon the earnest entreaties of some personal friends, I came here to address the people of this city I was then too weak to stand, and had to sit down during the delivery of what I had then to submit When I told the people they need not be surprised to see the country in war before six months they said I was crazy Everything was prosperous. The country was never so prosperous as in 1860 Everything was peaceful. They thought it amazing that I should say so Still it did come just as I, from my knowledge of the elements at work believed it would. The philosopher, with his hydrometer, barometer and thermometer, could have told you before it came, of that threatened cyclone which so fearfully burst upon your city some months ago

In 1860 I thought I saw the trouble, the future showed it When I raised my alarm I did not proclaim it in arrogance but they derided me. The same popular elements now exist The question of Hayes title was settled constitutionally and legally as I believed But, if it had been opened up and set aside under the Potter resolution, I tell you this evening such a war would have ensued as was never waged upon this continent It would not have been an organized war as the last one was but it would have been a civil war,—bloody war from the Pacific to the Atlantic,—in which millions would have gone down as in the French revolution

CITY.

Up the Valley.—Mr William Reid, [illegible] Mr. Thos Luttjohn the secretary, [illegible] Portland, and Mr E G Hughes the [illegible] of the Oregon & Washington Mortgage Savings Bank along with Mr C C M[illegible] of the stockholders have just returned to Portland from a five [illegible] travel of the Willamette valley. They went on the east side as far up as the Umpqua and came back on the west side of the valley to Portland traveling by carriage drive and 135 miles by [illegible] stopping at various places on the way to view the country and the crops which they report are in excellent condition. [illegible] the yield per acre will be a little less than former years. In some places notably [illegible] county they found crops deficient but the increased acreage sown this year all over the valley will more than compensate for crops in certain localities while the surplus for export will be equal to that of last year. Wherever fall and early spring grain was sown the yield was found an average and the quality good thus demonstrating the fact of the greater gain to the farmer by early cultivation. Mr Reid states that the improvements which have been made during the last four years and are being made by the farmers up country to [illegible] is remarkable showing a greater advance and development than he expected.

Chased by Robbers.—A man came into the city Thursday forenoon in great haste and considerably excited, and stated that he had been chased by two armed men who evidently intended to rob or kill him. He stated that while he was coming toward Portland from the south, and had reached a point on the road near bridge No 4 when two men came out of the brush each armed with a gun and started after him. This as a matter of course, frightened the man and he began to make tracks lively toward the city. He was pursued for some distance by the would-be robbers or assassins but they finally gave the chase up. On reaching the city the man notified the police and two officers were sent out. However no traces of the highwaymen were discovered.

From Prineville.—Mr James R Herren of Prineville, who left with the volunteers last [illegible] for Ochoco, returned last evening from The Dalles. Mr. H. left Prineville last Sunday afternoon for The Dalles. The volunteers were at that place then and were making preparations to start for Beaverton and Silver Lake country, about 120 miles distant. Reports which reached Prineville from [illegible] regions were to the effect that no murders had been committed, but the Indians had killed hundreds of cattle. The loss sustained from the slaughter of stock will be great.

A Useful Map.—The map of Oregon and Washington territory which has recently been compiled and drawn by Mr R A Habersham and published by J K Gill & Co is a valuable source of reference. The accuracy with which Eastern Oregon has been mapped is worthy of special note, and those who desire to keep posted in regard to the movements of the military and hostiles in that portion of the state, should not fail to make use of these maps.

The New Era Stabbing Case.—The three persons most intimately connected with the New Era stabbing affair on last Sunday have been bound over by Justice Whitlow, of Oregon City, to await the action of the grand jury. Kelly, the last one arrested, was held to answer in the sum of $1 000. Hon J F Caples, district attorney, attended and prosecuted the examinations in person.

Arrested.—In the United States commissioner's court yesterday morning W C Seik was charged with passing counterfeit money, he having passed a bad fifty dollar bill to the ticket agent of the O. S. N. Co for fare on the boat. He was arrested at Celilo and brought down Wednesday. After a preliminary hearing, the defendant was discharged.

Nearly Fatal.—The Telegram says: "Last night a little boy who had occasion to cross the railroad bridge in the northern part of the city missed his footing and fell into the creek under the bridge, out of which he was pulled in a very bad shape. He only received slight injuries—the barking of his nose and a sprain of the left wrist."

From the East.—A. H. Morgan, Esq., of this city, has just received a letter from Hon. O. N. Denny who is consul at Tien-Tsin, China. The letter bears date of May 1st and describes the famine which prevails in that country. Mr. Denny doesn't seem to be very favorably impressed with the locality.

Steamship Oregon.—The commodious steamship Oregon is announced to sail from this port for San Francisco next Sunday morning at 8 o'clock. She will carry away much freight and a large number of passengers.

Concert and Ball.—There will be a concert and ball at Canyon Garden on the 21st inst. Good music will be in attendance and a pleasant time may be anticipated.

PERSONAL.

Prof. Hilgard who holds the chair of professor of agricultural chemistry in the university of California arrived in this city about two weeks ago on the Elder. He remained a few days in this city during which time he was the guest of Capt Geo J Ainsworth. Complying with an invitation Prof Hillgard made a visit to Capt J. C Ainsworth's summer residence on Lake Ocklahama in Washington territory. After a few days sojourn there he returned to Portland, and made a trip to the Cascades. Yesterday, in company with several other gentlemen, the professor went out to Roseburg. He will return to-day and take passage on the Oregon for San Francisco. Prof. Hilgard is a very pleasant gentleman and one of the objects of his visit here is to make a personal examination of the soil and agricultural resources of Oregon.

New Market Theater.—The Marsh dramatic combination opened at New Market theater last evening in the popular play of Joshua Whitby, this being its first presentation in Portland. The piece relates the adventures of an old New England farmer during a visit to Boston and closes with a scene at his country home. It is full of fresh humor which was thoroughly appreciated by the goodly number who were present last night. Uncle Josh, the principal character, was personated by Mr R G Marsh, an actor of considerable talent. He appeared the personification of a down easter and won most hearty applause. Miss Hattie Nelson as Lot, a crossing sweeper, who after being adopted and educated by Uncle Josh becomes a young lady of a good deal of style and very pretty manners, engaged at first the sympathies and afterward the admiration of the audience. Miss [illegible], a young lady who visited Portland a few weeks ago with the Rose Manning opera troupe, personated a Boston belle in most agreeable style. She has a pleasant face, a handsome figure, a good voice and a natural pleasant air on the stage which is quite taking. The other parts with one or two exceptions were in good hands. A number of new scenes painted by an artist who accompanies the troupe add greatly to the effectiveness of the play and give a refreshing air of newness to the theater. Uncle Josh will be played to-night and to-morrow night and to-morrow afternoon.

In closing an approving review of the poems of Wm Winter the London Morning Post says: "In a word the land of Henry Longfellow and Wendell Holmes need not be ashamed of William Winter."

In the commencement exercises of the Western Female High School in Baltimore the Rev Dr Wilson prayed: "Oh, God grant that not one of these young ladies may be the victim of unrequited love"

The Louisville Courier Journal published another of its enormous eight-column papers on the morning of the race with twenty columns of sporting matter. The Cincinnati Enquirer on the same day published cuts of the horses

In a recent address before the New York Historical Society it was stated that the $24 paid originally to the Dutch for the island of Manhattan if placed at compound interest till May 1878 would have reached the pleasant total of $609 510 000

THE STEINWAY PIANO

A RECOMMENDATION FROM THE LEADING CITIZENS OF PORTLAND

We the undersigned citizens of Portland having used the Steinway Pianos would take this public means of expressing our approbation of the same. For purity and excellence of tone evenness strength and durability of construction and beauty of finish we have found the Steinway Pianos to be all that is claimed for them by their manufacturers and would hereby recommend these instruments to all who desire to purchase. We have found them first class and in every particular entirely satisfactory.

"A FALSE CHARGE."

A card under the above caption appeared in the OREGONIAN of the [illegible] inst. containing statements calculated to mislead the public in regard to E. R. Merriman's business transactions with me. I hold letters patent No 8 703 dated October 5 1875 for the desk mentioned in that card. On the 1st of Oct 1877 I entered into a written contract with Mr. Merriman by the terms of which I gave him the right of introducing my desk in Oregon and Washington Territory, I agreeing to furnish him with desks at stated prices to be paid in advance and he agreeing to work on no other desk under a penalty of $1000. He came to Oregon last February and soon after contracted with the Oregon Furniture Manufacturing Company to build him a desk without my knowledge or consent, which is a plain infringement of my patent and he then commenced to canvass for advertisements for that desk. During the time he was thus engaged he wrote me several letters containing repeated statements to the effect that he was actively engaged in canvassing for my desk and was charging my list prices all in coin without one cent's deviation for the advertising spaces sold by him the cards for which he forwarded to me to be painted. These representations were followed by an urgent request from Mr Merriman that I would entrust him with one of my desks on credit and being induced by his letters to believe that he was thus obtaining the means to pay for it I shipped him a desk on credit accordingly. After waiting three months for advertising cards enough to fill the desk, without receiving them, I came to Oregon and discovered that several of the cards sent me by him had not been ordered at all by the parties while two thirds of the balance were taken in trade for Merriman's own prices and partially in trade for Merriman's own benefit and that he had collected all the money due, of which I have not received and am not likely to receive a dollar. Upon this evidence Justice [illegible] held Mr Merriman under bonds in the sum of $[illegible] to answer to the grand jury for obtaining my desk by false pretenses. I think all will agree that I am justified in protecting myself against such wrong.

I shall remain in Oregon some time placing other desks in our principal hotels and will convince the public that all my dealings are honorable.

On Wednesday night there was a daring burglary at Jefferson. Three rascals entered J N Thomas' store, but being detected made a rush to escape. Two of them got away but the third was shot, a slight wound, by Jacob Conser and captured. The fellows got away only with papers. One was a check for $5 000 which will do them no good

WHEAT VERSUS CHEAT

Prof Hilgard of the California State University replying to an article recently published on this subject presents these considerations

Still as regards the presence in the ground of seeds never suspected which lie dormant for years until a favorable opportunity for growth presents itself there is such abundant experience, that, laying argument aside, I may as well ask Mr. Alexander and those who share his belief, a few questions in return

What of the well known "second growths" which in the experience of every country, follow the destruction of the natural plant growth as regularly and naturally as if the seeds had been sown? Does the "Loblolly pine," for instance proceed from the stunting of the natural oak growth that preceded it by transformation?

What of white clover which mysteriously comes in wherever certain conditions of soil are realized by improvement in remote districts where it was never known before?

What of the "fire-weed" of Europe and the east (at least I have not as yet seen it in California) which springs up wherever a pile of brush has been burnt, especially in new clearings? Was that formed out of the tree or transformed out of some native plant—a sort of universal changeling like cheat

What of the regulation persimmon and sassafras sheep fescue and mayweed or dog fennel that takes possession of every old field turned out south of the Ohio river even in the howling wilderness thousands of miles from any other place where they occur

What finally (to come nearer home) of twenty or more species of well known old world weeds which have spread over California like wild fire within a few years to the sorrow and confusion of farmers?

We know that winds birds streams the feet and hair of stock of all kinds as well as their excrements, the feet, clothes pockets, packages and vehicles of man, the seeds he sows purposely and a hundred other things are potent and uncontrollable agencies in the distribution of species of plants and a peculiarly of those which being hardy intrude themselves in spite of man's effort to subdue them and these he calls weeds. We also know that seeds differ widely in the facility with which they sprout and the time during which they preserve their vitality. If seed of darnel and chess may thus accumulate in the ground for several years and a few only find an opportunity to sprout, the occurrence of a prolonged wet season brings them all to the front and then the race is to the swift and the strong. If Mr Alexander doubts that our cultivated grains are pampered let him ask himself whether he ever saw one of them assuming the part of a troublesome weed. But if he wishes to satisfy himself of the existence of thousands of weed seeds in any virgin soil he may gather on a hillside or bottom within a score of miles of civilization. I will be glad to afford him the opportunity in my laboratory where every practical soil analysis requires a special operation to get rid of the multitudinous collection of seeds separated in the operation of washing. I will take pains in one such case to gather them together and count their kinds and numbers, and give your readers the benefit of the result

But in a case like this it is quite unnecessary to argue about "opinions"; any one can test the matter for himself not in the loose way often tried but thus: Boil any tolerably light soil for at least two hours with enough water and stirring to make a thin paste. Dry this down and give it tilth by working place in clean smooth boxes or pots covered with glass or muslin to protect against a definite number of seeds marking the place of each. Then turn on your wet and dry seasons and be sure that no sympathizing neighbor plays you a trick. If with these precautions strictly observed you ever get a spear of cheat out of anything but cheat seed the world will hail you as a discoverer greater than Morse or Edison

SLATER AND THE SALARY STEAL

[illegible]

A late number of the Portland Standard contained the following editorial paragraph

"The name of Hon J H Slater has been mentioned in connection with the seat in the senate and almost daily we are told that he did no vote for the back salary steal as it is commonly called. This is a malicious charge made against him. We do not propose to advocate any man's claim to the position but when his enemies say that he did vote for that bill they state that which is not true. He did not vote for it in any stage of its proceeding."

Mr Slater did not vote against the back salary steal in every stage of its proceeding. He voted aye on the motion to suspend the rules and receive the report of the conference committee fixing the steal at the figure which was finally adopted. This was an important stage in the proceedings [illegible]. At an earlier stage [illegible] Mr Slater voted under the lead of Butler the [illegible] manager of the grab on a motion to adjourn pending a motion by the same Butler for [illegible] which the house had refused to adopt the senate amendment. Butler's motive was clearly to gain time to rally votes for the senate amendment and the exhibit shows that it was so understood. But Mr Slater made his record sufficiently clear when he drew and pocketed the back pay. And this is not all. Mr Slater made an excuse in a published letter for drawing this grab which greatly aggravates the offense against public morals for accepting it. The excuse was that the committee would not permit him to draw mileage by the way of Portland and San Francisco instead of the route actually traveled from La Grande to Kelton. His published statements in the letter referred to respecting this matter betray a lack of sensibility rarely if ever before seen in a man who aspires to high office

I supposed that the Democratic party in its platforms and through its newspapers and stump speakers had been sufficiently explicit in its condemnation and denunciation of the men who procured and profited by the salary steal to have left no doubt in the mind of any one as to its position in the matter. If these expressions meant nothing, a great many Democrats would like to know it.

BEAUTY:

OR, THE

Secret of a Fair Face.

An Item of Interest to Every Lady who Desires to be More Beautiful than she now is.

Unfortunately not one woman in a hundred subjected to the whims of an American climate possesses that basis and starting point of real beauty —a pure and clear complexion. What nature has thus denied, art must be called upon to furnish. It can be done; it is done daily. Prof. W. E. Hagan placed beauty within the reach of every unblessed daughter of Eve when he discovered that surprising article known in fashionable circles as the true secret of beauty, and called

MAGNOLIA BALM

The MAGNOLIA BALM is a sure device for creating a pure and blooming complexion. It conceals all natural blemishes in the most surprising, effective [illegible]. It removes all roughness, eruptions, redness, blotches, freckles and tan with magical power. It drives away all evidence of fatigue and excitement. It makes the plainest face beautiful. It gives the complexion a dazzling purity and makes the neck, face [illegible] rotund and plump. It makes a matron of 35 or 40 look not more than 20 years old and changes the rustic maiden into a city belle. The Magnolia Balm removes sallowness [illegible] the closest observer cannot detect its use. [illegible] who want to make themselves attractive [illegible] by using MAGNOLIA BALM, and we know of no other [illegible]. It is the cheapest preparation in the world all things considered and may be had at any drug store.

Wheat

Orders are on the market for shipping lots but owing to holders views being above buyers they are not filled Beerbohm's report of the English market reports 750 000 quarters on passage for English ports The English market appeared to be stronger to-day but no quotations came through

The Indian troubles in Eastern Oregon will not as has been feared, work great injury to the wheat crop Active war and depredations have been confined almost entirely to the mountains and uplands and but few grain fields have been molested. Many farmers however have left their homes through fear of the savages and if the danger continues, the crops will remain unharvested and will go to waste. The weather in that section has been very favorable and all fields look well

Throughout the Willamette valley fall and early spring wheat looks well and will yield abundantly That sown late in the spring looks bad The late rains have improved it some but the yield will fall below the average

The English crops are fair French from bad to fair Russia, Hungary Northern Germany Italy Spain and Southern Europe have promise of a fair yield Algeria has a fair crop which is harvested

We are indebted to Col Farrish well known as an authority on this subject for valuable information

Wool

The wool market has been quite active during the past week and prices have advanced slightly The steamship Geo. W Elder took out about 500 000 pounds An eastern exchange says "The manufacturing business is far from satisfactory and it remains to be seen whether the fall demand for goods will sustain the present improvement in wool It has been a surprise to the trade that new wool opened at and has sustained such high figures in California, Texas and Kentucky and that buyers are now paying such high prices in Ohio Pennsylvania and other western states but such is the fact, and although the prospects of the trade scarcely warrant these high prices we cannot look for a reaction until later in the season if any reaction takes place There is wool enough in the country to supply all the wants of manufacturers for a year to come There are goods enough in the country to supply all the wants of consumers for some time to come and a large portion of these goods could not now be forced off at cost. Hence any excitement in the wool market at the present time is wholly speculative, in anticipation of a more prosperous state of trade generally, which may not be realized

Salmon

The salmon run continues fair but steel heads are becoming numerous and the season must close in a few days The total shipment for the season is 161,047 cases

Wheat and Corn Prospects

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The July report of the agricultural department contains the following regarding wheat and corn.

In the southern and Atlantic states the season has been unfavorable for wheat and low returns are made Virginia, 91 per cent. North Carolina 78, South Carolina, 68, Georgia, 75 In the Ohio valley the crop is almost unexampled in luxuriance, the average condition being—Ohio 112 per cent Michigan 105, Indiana, 115 Illinois 10[illegible] general average condition of winter wheat for its entire breadth is 110 per cent. It insures a larger aggregate than last year and is generally of superior quality The extraordinary promise of last month is continued. For the spring wheat region of the northwest, and including California and the spring wheat of the east, the unprecedented average of 103 per cent, is made for the entire area.

There is a reported decrease in the acreage of corn in the central portion of the great corn growing districts of the west and an increase in the south, and about the same area in the middle states as in 1877 a slight reduction being apparent in New York and a slight increase in New Jersey and Pennsylvania. The heaviest decline is in Illinois, amounting to about two thirds of 1 000 000 acres, or a reduction of 7 per cent. In some adjoining states the reduction is but one to two per cent. The increase in Texas as indicated by the counties reported is ten per cent, or 200,000 acres. Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi make a large advance, the former state about 100 000 acres The average condition of the whole crop is 95 per cent. The number of counties reporting the condition of corn is 1,072, of which 287 return 100 per cent. 252 above, and 513 below that standard Very few counties in the west give a figure above 100

His Wonderful Success

IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

Chronic and Difficult Diseases,

He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN HIS

public and private lectures the true principles of health and life to both male and female He has also warned them against habits that would be likely to produce disease in plain and comprehensive language But where he has found them crushed and broken down by disease, mentally and physically, he has restored them to health and happiness for it is well understood that without health there can be no happiness

has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases Catarrh Bronchitis and all diseases of the throat and chest, by an entirely new system only known to himself Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs, including Spermatorrhea, Seminal Weakness or premature loss of Manhood In the treatment of these diseases he has made a world wide reputation by his astonishing success not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States Diseases of the stomach, bowels liver and kidneys as well as all diseases of the blood and skin he has become master of and never fails to give relief at once and permanently cures the case if he is applied to in time

THE DOCTOR HAS GIVEN SPECIAL LECTURES

to ladies only for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints, and understands their delicate and refined organization, as well as the proper remedies which should be used to allay their suffering and restore them to perfect health

THE DOCTOR HAS THIS ADVANTAGE

over most physicians—he can tell the patients disease the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual This accounts in part for this great professional success

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand, and the patient need not fear the result.

will send to those living at a distance and who can not well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally and will forward the proper medicines or instruments to any part of the country with full instructions and advice. Each letter requiring advice or list of questions must contain two postage stamps

Everything strictly confidential and honorable

THE DOCTOR

has studied in the best Medical Schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify

CAUTION.

Persons coming to Portland, requiring medical treatment of the proper kind who desire to consult with me will please beware of persons who may try to coax them away to other so-called Doctors, through pretended friendship for the patients Look out for them they are knaves prompted by selfish motives and what they can make Be sure and ask for DR. PAUL M BRENAN the Medical Lecturer, and read his sign on his door

Office, 63 First street, over McCormick's Franklin Bookstore
